 2. Royal Andilana

Top 10 tourist attractions

1. Avenue of the Baobabs, One of Madagascar’s most iconic sights, the Avenue of the Baobabs near Morondava is a dramatic dirt road lined with towering, centuries-old baobab trees. At sunrise and sunset, the landscape glows with golden light, creating unforgettable photo opportunities and a powerful sense of place unique to the island.

2. Lemur Island (Nosy Komba & Nearby Reserves) is the only place on Earth where lemurs live in the wild, and Lemur Island offers close, responsible encounters with these curious creatures. Visitors can observe several species up close while learning about conservation efforts in a lush, tropical setting.

3. Tsingy de Bemaraha National Park, A UNESCO World Heritage Site, this park is famous for its dramatic limestone formations known as “tsingy.” Razor-sharp rock spires, hanging bridges, and hidden canyons create an adventurous landscape unlike anywhere else in the world, perfect for thrill-seekers and nature lovers alike.

4. Nosy Be is Madagascar’s most popular beach destination, known for its turquoise waters, white-sand beaches, and laid-back island vibe. Snorkeling, diving, whale watching, and vibrant nightlife make it an ideal tropical escape.

5. Isalo National Park is often compared to a natural cathedral. Explore sculpted sandstone canyons, palm-lined oases, and natural swimming pools with hiking trails leading through dramatic scenery and revealing sacred sites important to local Malagasy culture.

6. Andasibe-Mantadia National Park is a lush rainforest reserve and the best place to hear the haunting call of the indri, Madagascar’s largest lemur. Easily accessible from the capital, the park offers rich biodiversity, dense jungle trails, and exceptional wildlife viewing.

7. Ranomafana National Park is known for its rare golden bamboo lemur and steamy rainforest environment. The park combines wildlife exploration with nearby thermal springs, offering both adventure and relaxation.

8. Antananarivo, Madagascar’s capital, often called “Tana,” blends history, culture, and everyday local life. Highlights include the Rova (Queen’s Palace), bustling markets, colonial architecture, and panoramic hilltop views of the city.

9. Ifaty & the Southwest Coast is a charming coastal village famous for its coral reefs, calm lagoons, and striking contrast between desert landscapes and bright blue seas. It’s a peaceful destination ideal for snorkeling, relaxing, and experiencing traditional Vezo fishing culture.

10. Masoala National Park is the largest protected area in Madagascar. Masoala combines rainforest, mangroves, and pristine beaches, accessible mainly by boat. It offers an immersive eco-tourism experience with rare wildlife, secluded beaches, and untouched natural beauty.

Best time to visit Madagascar

September–October: Dry weather, warm temperatures, and active wildlife.

April–October: The most popular and recommended time for visiting. April/May is lush and green following the rains, while June–August is cooler and peak season.

November–March: High risk of rain, cyclones, and floods, particularly on the east coast. However, the landscape is lush, and it is less crowded.

April, May, November: Good times to visit for fewer crowds and good weather.

★★★★★ Constance Tsarabanjina

🔑	25 Rooms	🍴	1 Restaurant	🍸	1 Bar	📶	Wifi
🛀	Spa	🤿	Dive Centre	💍	Weddings	🏄	Water Sports

Constance Tsarabanjina is a barefoot 5 star, All-Inclusive concept, luxury resort, ideal for couples and honeymooners. For those seeking to engage all 5 senses, less has always been more. At Constance Tsarabanjina, nature is the key word – an eco-friendly resort where everything is protected, from the sea bed to the shells on the sand. Virgin beaches, turquoise clear water, the pleasures of nature at every turn, total privacy – all the beautiful clichés apply. Come and experience Robinson Crusoe chic.

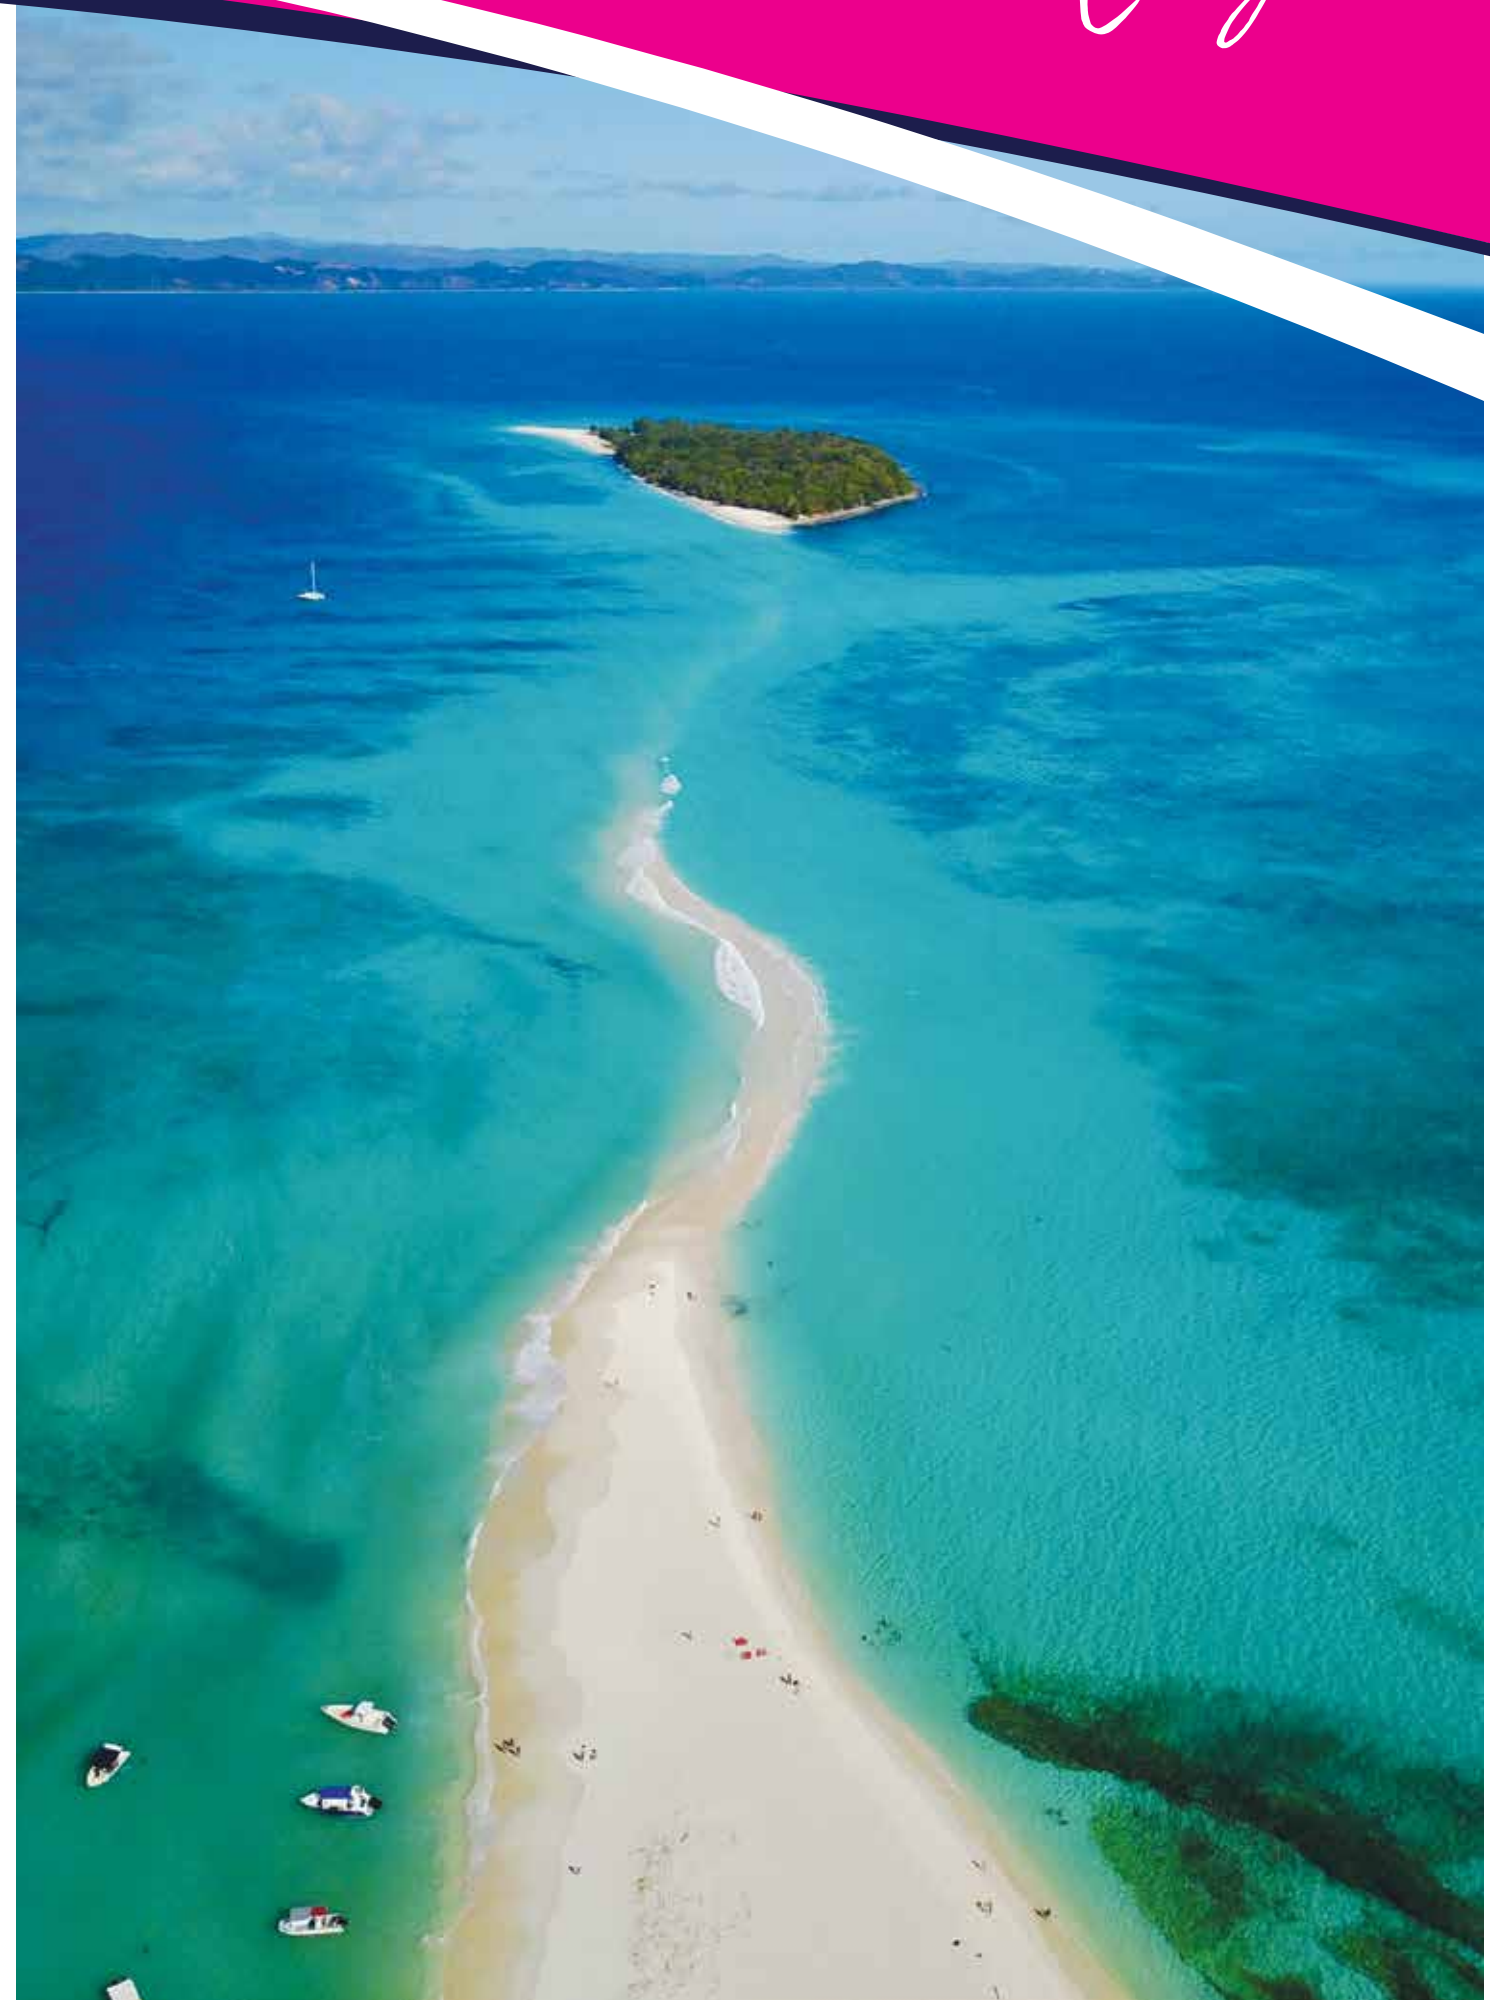

★★★★★ Royal Andilana

🔑	180 Rooms	🍴	2 Restaurants	🍸	2 Bars	📶	Wifi
🛀	Spa	👶	Kids Club	💍	Weddings	🏄	Water Sports

Set on the picture-perfect shores of Andilana beach, Royal Andilana Resort and Spa is a five-star resort offering everything you could possibly need to relax – from three swimming pools and a private beach to a tranquil spa and three restaurants serving fresh island flavours.

Located on the island of Nosy Be, you're invited to kick back on the white-sand Andilana beach, considered the island's most beautiful beach, indulge in a spa session, or go on a tailor-made excursion. It's all up to you.

EXPLORE THE Seychelles

Top 10 tourist attractions

1. Praslin Island is home to fantastic beaches (ranked amongst the world’s best). Soak up the sun in style while you keep a eye out for the very rare bird species that dwell on Praslin, including the Seychelles bulbul and the black parrot.

2. Scuba dive and discover the local marine life. The stunning topography of expansive reefs, walls, pinnacles, drop offs, wrecks and canyons make for one of the most diverse marine environments around, teaming with both fish and coral life.

3. Port Glaud Waterfall is home to one of the best snorkelling sites in the Seychelles, but what you won’t see from the road is the waterfall. When you reach the waterfall, you’ll be rewarded with a stunning view and cool water to swim in.

4. The Seychelles Carnival is relatively new on the Seychelles calendar, but it has already become a huge event and one not to be missed. A three-day event celebrating the ‘melting pot’ that is Seychellois culture, it’s usually in held April.

5. Takamaka Rum Distillery. When you think of the island life, a good rum is probably not too far from your thoughts! Seychelles has its very own, and a trip to the distillery is well worth your time. Set in an idyllic old plantation-style house, a wander round the grounds alone is well worth a visit , which, of course, comes with a tasting session.

6. Vallée de Mai is a pristine natural rainforest and a UNESCO World Heritage site. The Vallée de Mai is famous for the Coco De Mer, the world’s largest nut. The Vallée de Mai is also home to the Black Parrot and many other indigenous species.

7. Golf at Lémuria Hotel. The award-winning, 18-hole championship golf course at the Constance Lémuria Hotel is simply stunning. Considered to be a challenging course for golfers of all levels, the back nine holes are particularly difficult. The challenge is well rewarded with fantastic views, particularly at the 15th hole, which has an elevated cliff-top tee position looking out onto the famous Anse Georgette beach.

8. Cycle La Digue. Step off the La Digue ferry and you’ll have plenty of options to hire a bike. If you’re staying, then many hotels will provide bikes for free – just hop on and ride. A ride into the L’Union Estate is a must. As well as seeing a traditional copra mill and kiln, with a tour available, you can get up close and personal with giant tortoises and visit the plantation house. And you can check out Anse Source d’Argent, one of the most photographed beaches in the world.

9. The Eagle’s Nest is the perfect spot for that perfect picture. Consider a hike up Eagle’s Nest Mountain, the highest point on La Digue, at 333m above sea level. The best time to head up is the early evening, so you can watch the captivating sunsets on view. There’s also a small restaurant up there that serves simple but fresh, delicious Creole food.

10. Visit La Digue’s coconut plantation, one part of the Seychelles where coconut production is sustainable and managed. You will see an ox-powered oil extraction machine as well as the cemetery of the original settlers.

Best time to visit Seychelles

April, May, October, November:
Transition periods between monsoons with calm, clear seas, perfect for diving, snorkeling, and general sightseeing.
June - September:
Cooler, drier, and windier, ideal for watersports like windsurfing and kitesurfing.
December - March:
Hot, humid, and the wettest months (Jan is wettest), with short, heavy showers. Warmest water, great for turtle hatching (Dec-Feb), festivals (Oct), and can be cheaper in Feb.

EXPLORE Reunion

Top 10 tourist attractions

1. Experience incredible scenery on Reunion. Hire a car and drive around the island. It's a large island so you may want to pace yourself. Drive the Route du Volcan or into the Cirque de Cilaos for some of the most astounding scenery.

2. Visit 'Mars' and the smouldering Piton de la Fournaise, one of the world's most active volcanoes. The scenery along the way is jaw-droppingly beautiful and on the approach to the volcano, the road takes you through the Plaine des Sables, an area that looks very much like Mars! If you're into volcanoes, do the hike inside an old lava flow of the Piton de la Fournaise.

3. Hike in the cirques. Reunion is famous for its three cirques (Mafate, Cilaos and Salazie), three large calderas formed by the collapse of a shield volcano. Of the three, Mafate is inaccessible by roads, making it ideal for hikers wanting to enjoy the impressive nature in total solitude.

4. See Reunion from above. If you enjoy microlight or helicopter flights, it is highly recommend seeing Reunion Island from above. Only then will you be able to truly appreciate its impressive and varied topography.

5. Stroll around the towns and their markets. St. Denis is the capital and largest town. It's great to stroll around this lovely town – don't forget to check out its beautiful architecture and visit its markets. Another market town to visit is St. Pierre on the south coast, with its lively Saturday market. It's a great place to taste local specialties like Bon Bon Piment and a variety of rum, buy top quality vanilla and pick up some souvenirs.

6. Laze at the lagoons. Most of the island's most beautiful lagoons are found on the west coast between St. Paul and St. Leu. Here you'll find wide expanses of sandy beaches ranging from white to black!

7. Go canyoning. Explore down the Riviere de Roche from Bassin la Mer to the Bassin la Paix on the northeast coast near the town of St. Benoit. An old lava flow had been carved into a canyon by the river, with astonishing walls on each side, tranquil pools, followed by rapids and waterfalls. It is an incredible experience, jumping off the walls (some up to 12 meters high) into the pool below.

8. Indulge yourself in food and dance. Reunion presents a fascinating mix of French, African and Asian cultures, resulting in a wide array of delicious food and performing arts. Go on a 'food tour' at one of the markets and indulge yourself in Creole cuisine. And don't forget to taste some of the island's famous rum!

9. Spot street art. You'll find many vibrant examples of street art throughout Reunion, and especially in the capital, St. Denis. In fact, Jace, one of the most famous street artists, hails from Reunion. It's fun to try and spot his works around the island – his faceless characters are easy to recognise.

10. Go whale/dolphin watching. Reunion is a great place to experience marine life up close. There are various dolphin-and whale-watching tours but one that stands out is run by Excursia Voyageur Curieux on board Hnoss, an old Norwegian whaling boat. This is an opportunity of a lifetime to join scientists from the Dare Win project as they research the complex communication systems of dolphins and whales.

Best time to visit Reunion

May - November:
Cooler, dry season for hiking, whale watching (June-Oct), and pleasant weather.
May, June or September:
For fewer crowds and better deals.
December - April:
Hot, humid, and cyclone-prone summer.
